Affidavit of Non-Commercial Travel

I, the undersigned, a living man/woman and sovereign member of the Clements Private Trust, do solemnly affirm under spiritual bonding and private ecclesiastical authority, that I engage in travel not for commercial purposes, but for personal, spiritual, and private necessity in accordance with divine law and natural right.

This affidavit is issued as a lawful declaration of my intent and practice to travel upon the public and private roads by means of trust-assigned transportation, without engaging in commerce, trade, or business activities as defined by statutory law.

As such, I am not subject to licensing, registration, insurance mandates, or other commercial constructs that presume a commercial capacity. This travel is in alignment with the sacred covenant of the Clements Private Trust and its protective jurisdiction, governed under ecclesiastical authority, not civil or admiralty jurisdiction.

Any interference with such travel constitutes a trespass upon the ecclesiastical estate and the sacred trust rights of the undersigned and is hereby rebutted and spiritually returned to sender under the authority of the Creator of the Universe.

This affidavit is presented in peace and good faith. Should there be any dispute or lack of comprehension regarding the nature and status of this declaration, supervisory assistance from the local Sheriff or ecclesiastical arbitrator is respectfully requested.

Affirmed and sealed this 16th day of July, 2025, under full spiritual capacity and without prejudice.
